What kind of investor are you?

Do you prefer to make every investment decision? Or, would you rather have a portfolio that rolls up its sleeves and does all the work for you?

Are you an aggressive investor, more conservative, or somewhere in between? And do you have 18 years until your child enters college, or just a few?

Future Path 529 understands every investor's situation is unique. That's why we offer 27 different portfolios to choose from. You can even change your portfolio twice each year, or whenever you name a new beneficiary.

Choose from three investment approaches

Enrollment year portfolios

Select the year your child will start college and J.P. Morgan does the rest. We'll work to maximize your return in the early years, then gradually shift your portfolio to be more conservative as college approaches.
