- Gift and estate tax benefits—for 2018 individuals may invest up to $15,000 ($30,000 for married couples) per beneficiary without incurring any gift tax. Upon the death of the account owner, money remaining in the account will not be included in the account owner's estate for federal estate tax purposes.
- Account owner control and flexibility as to how assets are used
- Professional investment management

Why offer the SSGA Upromise 529 Plan to Your Clients?

- A number of 529 investment options can increase your flexibility and efficiency of managing education savings accounts.

What types of investments are available?

The plan offers the following investment options:

- 8 College Date Portfolios
- 3 Risk Based Portfolios
- 15 Static Portfolios
- Savings Portfolio

For complete details on the investment options offered by SSGA Upromise 529, please visit ssga.upromise529.com/investmentoptions.

Is there a state tax deduction available?

Nevada does not have a state income tax, so there is no state tax deduction for Nevada residents. Many other states do provide tax deductions for contributions to 529 plans sponsored only by that state, and some states provide tax deductions for contributions to 529 plans sponsored by any state. You and your client should check the rules for applicable states.

¹Earnings on non-qualified withdrawals are subject to federal income tax and may be subject to a 10 percent federal penalty tax, as well as state and local income taxes. The availability of tax or other benefits may be contingent on meeting other requirements.

²Although they invest in ETFs and/or mutual funds, the SSGA Upromise 529 Plan Portfolios are not ETFs or mutual funds themselves. An account owner will own units of the portfolio, which are municipal securities, not shares of the ETFs or mutual funds.

Costs, Contribution Limits and Beneficiary Restrictions

What are the costs, contribution limits and beneficiary restrictions associated with the plan?

Costs
What are the management fees?	The annual asset-based plan fee varies from 0.22 percent to 0.27 percent depending on the portfolio chosen. For further details refer to the Plan Description and Participation Agreement .
What are the account fees?	There is no enrollment fee. There is an annual account fee of $20. (The annual account fee is waived for Nevada resident account owners and beneficiaries, and for anyone invested in the Savings Portfolio at the time the fee is assessed)
How many times can funds be re-allocated to different investment choices?	Twice per calendar year or whenever the account's beneficiary is changed.
Contributions and Rollovers
What is the minimum deposit needed to open an account?	$15 for a lump sum contribution via check or a one-time electronic funds transfer or $15 per month or $45 a quarter with an Automatic Investment Plan. ³
Is there an annual or lifetime contribution limit?	Contributions can be made until the total contributions for the designated beneficiary reaches the lifetime maximum contribution limit of $370,000 (based on aggregate market value of all education saving plan accounts for the same designated beneficiary under all college savings programs sponsored by the State of Nevada). Accounts that have reached the Maximum Contribution Limit will continue to accrue earnings, although future contributions may not be made to such accounts. Individuals contributing up to $15,000 ($30,000 if married filing jointly) in a single year can do so without incurring a gift tax. Individuals can also take advantage of the five year contribution rule and when gifting up to $75,000 per child in a single year ($150,000 for married couples) with no gift tax consequences as long as they make no additional gifts to the same child over the next five years. ⁴

⁶ In the case of a beneficiary or account owner, rules regarding gifts and generation-skipping transfer tax may apply in the case of a change of beneficiary. Clients should consult with a tax advisor when considering a change of beneficiary.

Expenses and Withdrawals

Which education expenses are eligible?

To qualify for federal tax-free withdrawals on earnings, the money must be used for qualified K-12 elementary or secondary public, private, or parochial schools, and/or higher education expenses for the beneficiary at an eligible educational institution. Some international schools and overseas study programs qualify.

- Eligible Educational Institutions—Eligible educational institutions are those eligible to participate in federal student financial aid programs. An easy way to check a school's eligibility under Section 529 is to confirm they have been assigned a federal school code at fafsa.ed.gov.
- Qualified Education Expenses—Up to $10,000 in tuition for K-12 elementary or secondary public, private or parochial schools qualify for tax-free education expenses. For higher education institutions, tuition, mandatory fees, books, computers/ Internet access, supplies and equipment required for enrollment or attendance are all qualified expenses. Additionally, certain room and board costs during any academic period for which the beneficiary is enrolled at least half-time and certain expenses for special-needs students are also eligible.

What happens to funds not used for qualified higher education expenses?

Any funds that are not used for the beneficiary's qualified expenses can be withdrawn for other uses. However, the earnings portion of a withdrawal not used for a beneficiary's qualified education expenses is subject to federal and state income taxes and may also be subject to a 10 percent federal penalty tax. Exceptions to this penalty include a withdrawal made because the beneficiary:

- Dies
- Becomes disabled
- Receives a scholarship, to the extent that the withdrawal amount does not exceed the scholarship amount.
- Attends the United States Military Academy, the United States Naval Academy, the United States Air Force Academy, the United States Coast Guard Academy, or the United States Merchant Marine Academy, to the extent that the amount of the withdrawal does not exceed the costs of education attributable to such attendance.

Alternatively, should a beneficiary decide not to go to private school or college an account owner has the option to either request a non-qualified withdrawal, change the beneficiary or stay invested in the case that the beneficiary decides to go to college at a later date (there is no age limit to use the funds).

How are withdrawals made?

Withdrawals can be requested either online after login in to your account or by submitting a Withdrawal Request Form. Generally, withdrawals may be made at any time.

- Proceeds from qualified withdrawals can be sent to the account owner, the beneficiary, or the higher education institution.
- Proceeds from non-qualified withdrawals can be sent to the account owner or the beneficiary.

Are there other ways to save?

Yes, Ugift® and Upromise® Rewards both offer additional ways to save.

Ugift

Ugift allows family and friends to celebrate children's milestones with the gift of education savings (in lieu of traditional gifts). By logging onto their SSGA Upromise 529 account and clicking on the Ugift logo, clients can invite their family and friends to contribute with as little as $15 per gift.

Upromise Rewards⁶

When a client links their Upromise Rewards account to their SSGA Upromise 529 account, they can arrange to have their rewards earnings automatically transferred to their 529 account on a periodic basis (subject to a $25 minimum).
