To all your abilities,
now add the ability to save.

Making saving easier helps make life better.

There's no limit to what individuals with disabilities can do. Now, that includes saving, too.

The Achieving a Better Life Experience Act (ABLE) of 2014 allows those with disabilities and their families to save for many daily, disability-related expenses on a tax-deferred basis – without limiting their ability to benefit from supplemental security income (SSI), Medicaid and other federal programs.

Who's eligible?

You can open the account for yourself, or an authorized individual can open one on your behalf, if:

- Your disability was present before the age of 26; and
- One of the following is true:
 - You experience blindness as determined by the Social Security Act; or
 - You are entitled to receive SSI or SSDI benefits or have a similarly severe disability with a written diagnosis from a licensed physician.

(The account owner or authorized individual must certify the disability. See Plan Disclosure Documents for details.)

What are Qualified Disability Expenses?

These are ANY expenses that are incurred as a result of living with a disability and are intended to improve your quality of life. Qualified expenses include, but are not limited to:

- Education
- Health and wellness
- Housing
- Transportation
- Legal fees
- Financial management
- Employment training and support
- Assistive technology
- Personal support services
- Oversight and monitoring
- Funeral and burial expenses
- Basic living expenses

(Withdrawals for non-qualified expenses will be taxed at the account owner's tax rate, and will be subject to a 10% federal tax penalty and applicable state taxes.)
