An INvestABLE Indiana account can help.

As of January 2026, ABLE eligibility expanded to include individuals whose disability began before the age of 46. That means nearly one million more ABLE qualifying veterans can access a powerful tool that could help build financial independence.

An ABLE account is a tax-advantaged way to save and invest for a wide range of qualified disability expenses such as:

- Medical and dental services not covered by VA benefits
- Housing, including rent or a down payment on a home
- Education, if you've already utilized or transferred your VA education benefits to your spouse or child
- Transportation
- Health club membership

You, your friends, your family, and others can contribute up to a total of $20,000 annually—and certain employed ABLE account owners are permitted to make additional contributions.¹

Why open an INvestABLE Indiana account?

- No impact on other essential government benefits you may rely on²
- Any earnings are tax-deferred, and withdrawals are tax-free for qualified disability expenses³
- Flexible investment options, including a checking account option, for day-to-day needs and long-term goals
- Indiana taxpayers can claim a stand-alone credit for contributions to INvestABLE Indiana accounts⁴

Who's eligible?

To qualify for an ABLE account, the disability must be present before the age of 46 and one of the following statements is true:

- The person is eligible for Supplemental Security Income (SSI) or Social Security Disability Insurance (SSDI) because of disability or blindness as defined by the Social Security Act (SSA).

- A medically determinable physical or mental impairment with marked, severe functional limitation has lasted, or is expected to last, at least 12 continuous months or to result in death, with a written disability-related diagnosis by a physician.
- The condition is listed on the Social Security Administration's List of Compassionate Allowances Conditions.

Note: Receiving disability benefits is not required. Employment status and income do not affect ABLE eligibility.

Secure your financial future

With an ABLE account, any investment earnings are federal tax-deferred and will ultimately be tax-free when withdrawn for qualified disability expenses,³ giving your money more potential to grow compared to a traditional savings account.

Saving even small amounts consistently over time could make a meaningful difference in helping you build long-term financial stability.

¹Certain Employed ABLE account owners may contribute the annual contribution limit (currently $20,000) plus the lesser of the account owner's earned income for the calendar year or the amount of the federal poverty level for a one-person household in the account owner's state of residence for the previous calendar year. These amounts adjust periodically to account for inflation.

³The earnings portion of a non-qualified withdrawal will be counted as income, taxed at the account owner's tax rate, and subject to a 10% federal tax penalty and any applicable state taxes.

⁴Indiana taxpayers are eligible for a state income tax credit of 20% of contributions to an INvestABLE Indiana account, up to $500 credit per year. This credit may be subject to recapture from the account owner (not the contributor) in certain circumstances, such as distributions made from an account that is terminated within 12 months, rollovers to another state's ABLE plan, or rollovers to a 529 plan other than a 529 plan established by the State of Indiana.

For more information about INvestABLE Indiana (the "Member Plan"), call (888) 609-3457, or visit in.savewithable.com to obtain the Plan Disclosure Booklet and/or the Investment Policy Statement, which include investment objectives, risks, charges, expenses, and other important information about the Member Plan. Please read and consider the Plan Disclosure Booklet carefully before investing.

Before investing in any ABLE program, you should consider whether your home state offers an ABLE program that provides its taxpayers with favorable state tax or other benefits that are only available through investment in the home state's ABLE program. You also should consult your financial, tax, or other adviser to learn more about how state-based benefits (or any limitations) would apply to your specific circumstances. You also may wish to directly contact your home state's ABLE program, or any other ABLE program, to learn more about those plans' features, benefits and limitations. Keep in mind that state-based benefits should be one of many appropriately weighted factors to be considered when making an investment decision.

The Member Plan is sponsored by the state of Indiana and administered by Indiana ABLE Authority. The Member Plan is intended to be a qualified ABLE plan offered through the National ABLE Alliance. Ascensus College Savings Recordkeeping Services, LLC, the Program Manager, and its affiliates, have overall responsibility for the day-to-day operations, including investment advisory, recordkeeping and administrative services. The Member Plan's Investment Options are allocations to mutual funds, ETFs, banking products and/or other investments. Except for the Checking Account Option, investments in the Member Plan are not insured by the FDIC. Interests in the Member Plan are municipal securities and the value of your Account will vary with market conditions. 2654512-GSABLE-3081302 (01/2026)
